

The Libra Ecosystem

The Libra Blockchain is managed by nodes, which are servers that help operate the blockchain.

The nodes form a network that developers and businesses can build financial services and products on.

This will help people all over the world use Libra for their everyday needs.